COACH PEACOCK GIVES ROTARY CLUB BRIEFING ON PRE-GAME ACTIVITY

Coach Cecil Peacock told Rotary that "I believe football has many advantages to the average boy and is a distinct asset." The many advantages which the coach mentioned included the risk of injury; the risk of injury is reduced to a minimum and defense, and above all getting the boys in proper condition.

The Coach also let the audience in on some of the many difficulties of the high school coach—teaching the youngsters the rudiments of football, teaching the basic plays of offense and defense, and above all getting the boys in condition.

"The problem of conditioning, except for a few cases, is not too difficult," he said, "if you keep after it. Most of the boys who want to play football just naturally want to do those things that will keep them in condition. The occasional defaulter must be dealt with, and he is."

With only a very few of last year's "first string," the Coach thinks, "We will have a pretty fair team this year."

Budget Commission Hears Flood Board On Needed Money

Vice Chairman Emmett Roberts has returned from Washington, where the entire five-member Board appeared before the Budget Commission together with its engineers for the purpose of the budget for the present condition, the planned works and the necessity of immediate action for the benefit of the area.

A three and a half hour session was had with the Commission, according to Mr. Roberts and many questions were answered for its members. "We are sure that considerable new work is being given the Commission and several items cleared up in its mind."

Among the requests made were (1) Commission of the Agricultural area (2) Permission for the use of appropriated funds for works authorized other than a particular fund for which it is appropriated (3) a definite program of accomplishment over a definite period of time and with sufficient funds with which to accomplish this.

The Commission indicated that the President is intent on balancing the budget and all projects will be scrutinized closely for this purpose, and especially with reference to the amount of local participation. The Florida project stands very high with comparable projects in other states.

Other members of the Board stayed over in Washington for a few days visit, and Turner went and will be in the city conferring with the Engineers in Jax on district matters.

SPECIAL INSURANCE PLANS FOR STUDENTS

An application blank has been given each student in the Belle Glade school for their parents to read wherein a unique plan of protection has been made available to all pupils in the school district.

In response to tremendous interest shown by parents, a special student accident insurance plan has been developed at the nominal rate of $1.00 per student for the entire year.

This all risk plan, in which participation is entirely voluntary, protects the student during the whole school year from injuries received while traveling to or from school, while attending school during the hours and on the days when school is in session, including coverage for intramural sports, gym and other physical activities, and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities either away from school premises or after school hours (except injuries received while participating in interscholastic activities).

Any boy or girl, from kindergarten age up, who attends grade, junior or senior high school, and whose teacher is eligible for this accident protection, has physical examination necessary.

The policy term is from the date on which the application is received by the school to the end of the school year and pays for all death, surgery, hospital and medical expenses.

Other attending colleges other than freshmen are Miss Patsy Chambers and Bonnie Williams are continuing their studies at Stetson University, Deltona. Miss Donna Morris and Kenneth Lutz are attending (Continued on Page Four)

Kenneth Bass Unexpectedly Greeted By Brother Lieut. Jowel At Freedom Gate

"Fine — Looks Wonderful!" Says Jowel After Talking With His Brother

After being told by the security information tent that his brother was not on the list of repatriated POW's, Lieutenant Jowel Bass who was at the delivery point, on the 5th of September as the last of the prisoners were being delivered to the Americans, turned away in saddened disappointment.

Only the desire of a fellow officer to talk some pictures of the returned captive to him lingered around to see the boys depart from the "choppers". "When I saw him step from the chopper, I couldn't believe my eyes — I started to run — then I stopped — I wasn't sure. When I knew I was with him my arms around him and we were both crying."

Jowel continues, in a letter to his parents, "It was the happiest moment of my whole life. Funny thing — one of the first things he said was 'I knew you'd be here'. Mom and Dad, that was the best words I've ever heard."

Imagine the brother soldier after awaiting anxiously at the point of delivery of the prisoners, to find out if his brother whom he believed a prisoner, would be among the very last to be returned; then, to be notified officially that he is not to be there. Wrapped up in the disappointment and of whether he was alive or dead, or whether he would ever be returned, and purely by accident — not by planning — to remain in the vicinity and find that his brother, after all, had been included!

Below is an excerpt from his letter to his parents reported on Kenneth:

"Dear Folks:

I can't hardly stand still long enough to write but I'll try to scratch a few lines. Sunday afternoon about four-thirty I walked Kenneth from a chopper and look out over the people, like he was lost.

I had just come from the security information tent where they had told me that Kenneth's name was not on the list of prisoners to be repatriated. I had another officer with me and he wanted to take a few more pictures of incoming returnees — so I went up to the hill to watch the choppers. I was sure to say or try to describe how I felt. Within a few minutes after we got there another chopper came in and I saw him step from the chopper. I couldn't believe my eyes — I started to run — then I stopped, I wasn't sure. Then I knew and I was with him with my arms around him and we were both crying."

One of the happiest moments of my whole life was when I saw him step from the chopper. I couldn't believe my eyes — I started to run — then I stopped, I wasn't sure. Then I knew and I was with him with my arms around him and we were both crying."

Carlton Swamps Two Opponents While Close Wins Over Sara Crech With Two Candidates 7 Votes Apart In Central

SQUARE DANCE DATE IS CHANGED BY LEGION

The regular joint meeting of the American Legion and its Auxiliary was held at the Legion Hall Tuesday night.

Leut. Jack Cromer was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk about the benefits of the National Guard to the individual and to the public. He also said that whereas there had been 49 guardsmen in this area there are now 72, which, seems as though the local boys are taking advantage of the offer made by the National Guard.

Announcement was made by the house committee that the square dance will be held this Friday night as usual, but that plans are underway to hold all future dances on Saturday nights during the football season.

There were 3 guests present, Mrs. M. Rickman, Lt. and Mrs. Jack Cromer.

Tuesday happened to be the birthday of legionnaire Davis Kiehligher and the entire group joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to him.

LAST RITES HELD FOR C. P. SPRINGER

Talbert Rhodes, whose birthplace is listed as Georgia, has often been embroiled with "the law" — nine times according to the records, once in West Palm Beach and once while summering in Noo Yawk State. Seven other times, since '45 he has been an enforcement guard in the Belle Glade City Hall for "profanity, fighting and disorderly conduct."

Rhodes has the general reputation of being well acquainted with the gambling element, and about the only thing he would need much encouragement to be a "big shot" negro.

Officer Davis, a negro policeman for the City of Belle Glade, a few days ago, according to reliable reports, challenged some negro for an infraction of the law only to be notified by Rhodes that this particular Rhodes was a kinsman of his and shouldn't be bothered. His protest became loud, profane and very energetic so that he became embroiled with "the law" as interfering with the work of an enforcement officer. That doesn't go very well with Officer Davis, so down to the familiar clink goes Rhodes, still vociferously protesting the infringement of his rights with occasional profanity.

After being booked and assigned to a bed, Rhodes, reportedly, continued his tirade with the result that he ended up in the "sweet box," a device built for the law enforcement officer, volucious, and for the benefit of other guests who want to sleep.

Rhodes was tried and convicted of profanity and disorderly conduct, but his feelings were hurt, so he got out of the Palm lawyer and sued Davis.

There seems to be some question about whether Rhodes' heart was bugged with a billy, which it probably should have been.

Rhodes' record for stirring up strife is such that he is not the most desirable type of client in such a suit, but the lawyers must have work, the service of papers sets a fee for the constable or Deputy Sheriff and the Court's bill will not be hurt.

Officer Davis seems to have the impression that folks of his race are susceptible to the laws of the land too, without too much allowance made for "niggers' rights."

The City Commission has ordered an investigation of Officer Davis' conduct and determine if he violated intentionally the law or Rhodes' rights.

City Manager Question Settled By Favorable Vote Of 235 To 160 In Unenthusiastic Vote Of Registrants

NAVAL RESERVE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP EXAMS

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 18, 1953: Lieutenant Arthur F. Doty, Officer in Charge of the Florida-South Navy Recruiting district, announced today that competitive examinations for the Naval Officers College Training Program will be given on Saturday, December 12, 1953.

The program entitles qualified young men to attend one of the best leading colleges and universities, located throughout the United States at no expense to themselves or to their parents.

For further information about this program, call or visit your nearest Navy Recruiting Station or Senior High School.

Bar And Ingrams Only 7 Votes Apart, With A Probable 60 To Split

Cocky Carlton eliminated two opponents on the first ballot, with a vote of 455 to Tedder's 211 and Rhudy's 40, while Herman Closs, incumbent incumbent of Miss Sara Crech with a total of 388 votes.

E. C. Capp received 60 votes, while Howard Bair received 299 and Z. T. Ingram 306 votes. Bair and Ingram will settle their contest next Tuesday the 22nd.

No great interest was displayed in the election, generally, as only 723 voters out of a registration of 1332 bothered to vote.

The only issue apparent was the one who could convince the voters they would be the "goodest" commissioner, as that was the only general promise made. The question of City Manager got the nod from those who voted, and it is expected that one will be chosen at an early date. For information where there is no particular candidate in sight, so the field is open.

So the City of Belle Glade is in the market for a $15,000 to $25,000 per year man to pay him. He must be a top diplomat, an administrator, a business man with above the normal ability, a half-fellow well-net attribute, and above all he must know something about policing, street cleaning, street control, electricity, running a water-works.

He will have plenty of help, for he has 1250 water-works employees who will not only more a lot of voters and they all have friends. All these, as wary customers, as voters and as taxpayers will offer advice in each role, and all of them have friends who know how to run a city. God bless the man who gets the job, for he is the only one who can help him keep his job. This fellow, also, must know how to park cars best too, whether angling or parallel.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY RECORDS SHOULD BE UP TO DATE SAYS MANAGER

The importance of properly using one's social security card can hardly be overestimated. R. C. Gehrkens, Jr., manager of the West Palm Beach Social Security Administration office, declared recently.

"The omission of even a single wage report could conceivably lead to the loss of thousands of dollars in old-age and survivors insurance benefits to the family of a worker who died," he declared.

"Social Security records, which are kept by name and number, not only are used to determine how much will be paid, but whether benefits can be paid. Consequently, part-time workers or those whose work is irregular may barely meet the minimum requirements even when all wages are properly recorded. Omission of one or two wage items could easily result in ineligibility," Mr. Gehrkens said.

Every worker can guard against this happening by making sure that his social security number has been copied correctly into his employer's records. Lost cards can be replaced easily by the local office on request. Application forms to get either new or duplicate social security cards can be obtained from any social security office, any post office or State employment office. The social security office will also provide a free post card form to be used in getting a statement of wages credited to the worker's social security account.

MISS ALLEN ENTERS NURSES' TRAINING

Miss Helen Runette Allen of Belle Glade, Florida was one of thirty-one new students to enroll Monday, August 31, in the Agnes Hospital School of Nursing. The school is represented by nearly every state in Southeastern United States, ranging from Florida to Ohio. The majority of the group have completed the two year Pre-Nursing course at St. Augustine's College in St. Augustine.

The first week of enrollment the new students were given ample opportunity to become acquainted with their new surroundings and fellow students through orientation programs and social activities.

St. Agnes Hospital and Training School for Nurses was founded in 1896 through the combined efforts of the Episcopal Church and Mrs. Agnes Hunter, wife of Dr. Aaron B. Hunter, then principal of St. Augustine's College. The hospital and nursing school and St. Augustine's College functioned under one governing body until 1942, when the hospital and nursing school became an separate organization. St. Agnes Hospital and Nursing School are at present under the Administration of Mr. W. Gordon Fogle, M.S. in Hospital Administration, who is a Nominee of the American College of Hospital Administration. The Assistant Administrator is Mr. B. A. DeWitt, B.S. in Business Administration.

ELECTRIC PLANTS IN FLORIDA GENERATING MORE THAN NATIONAL AVERAGE

Electric plants in Florida have increased their total producing power by 35 percent since early 1951, expanding to meet the growth of the State. The national increase during the same period was 19 percent.

The installed capacity of electric generating plants in Florida stood in mid-1953 at 1,531,458 kilowatts. This capacity was made up of 1,339,487 kilowatts in general utility plants, both public and private, and 191,971 kilowatts in industrial plants.

Marking the industrial progress of the State, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce pointed out that industrial electric capacity has increased 48 percent since January of 1951.

Electricity produced last year by all plants in Florida reached 7,390,896 kilowatt hours. A recent business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial data shows 6, 414,102 kilowatt hours as produced by utility plants and $76,794,000 kilowatt hours by private industry for its own use.

This latter figure does not include sales of electricity to manufacturing firms which buy from regular utility plants.

Electricity produced by both utility and industrial plants increased 17 percent during 1952 over 1951 production. Through May of 1953 production has run another 17 percent higher than during the same months of 1952.

REV. E. D. MESSER

Revival services will be conducted each evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of the Nazarene on North West Ave. D, starting Sept. 24, through Sunday, October 4. Reverend E. D. Messer of Tallahassee, evangelist will deliver the sermons. The public is invited to attend and hear the gospel singing and preaching each evening.

JUST KEEP RIGHT ON A-ROWIN'

"And he saw them toiling in rowing! for the wind was contrary unto them."

The Master will not let you drown, if you'll just keep right on a-rowin'.

Hand your boat straight into the gale, And show no signs of a-slowin'!

Let the winds blow, and howl, and wail, But you just keep right on a-rowin'.

The Master will come, of this be sure; Just when, we've no way of a knowin'.

So man your oars and pull for a short, And you just keep right on a-rowin'.

He'll command the storms to cease, And the winds they'll stop a-blowin'!

The billows will all settle down in peace, If you'll just keep right on a-rowin'.

You'll land safely on that blissful shore, Where to your harbor of peace you're a-goin'.

And the storms then will all be o'er, If you'll just keep right on a-rowin'.

— By Rev. E. D. Messer.

A MOMENT

There was a moment this morning, This very early morning when the full moon was on the western hills,

When I glimpsed the road ahead, The road that I must follow if I am not to fall in life's unfolding,

The glimpse was good for me, Too much I had been looking backward, Viewing with pride the climb I had accomplished,

Fleeing above, Immeasurably above, The crowd who tolled below me, Now that I have found perspective,

Have seen my position relative to the peak, Have drunk to the statute of a pigmy; My ego is deflated like a pricked balloon,

My will my remains, My will to climb expands as vast Antaeus, My will is heaven bound, Merely the sight of Heaven's heights recharges it with power,

I will go on, The will to grow, Creates a body adequate, Draws strength from heaven's batteries 'til I'm strong, So strong I face the upward road, Entirely unafraid,

From The Wayfarer.

U. S. SUGAR INSTALLS TWO-WAY RADIOS FOR MORE EFFICIENT WORK

Modern electronics have once more invaded the farm and ranch of Florida. Installation was begun last week of a short wave radio communications system for the United States Sugar Corporation's agricultural and cattle-raising operations.

A forty foot tower has been set up atop the company's office building and sets are being installed in the trucks operating throughout the seven plantations of the corporation's Western Division. Foremen will be able to contact the main office at any time and will maintain direct communication with each other.

The present installation is on an experimental basis. If successful, the communications system will be enlarged to take in all of the Sugar Corporation's far-flung operations.

Veterans Information and Service

By Melvin T. Dixon State Service Officer

GI Education and Training Deadline Date for Korean Veterans. I wish to warn Korean veterans discharged prior to August 20, 1952, and call their attention to the importance of applying for training immediately.

There are nearly 1,000,000 Korean veterans whose deadline for initiating training is August 20, 1954. They had two years from August 20, 1952, in which to begin training under Public Law 550.

Many will approach the deadline date thinking that the mere filing of an application before the deadline date is sufficient. This is not true and many thousands are going to be involved in spite of warning. The Korean veteran is expected to be in the classroom or at the training bench when his GI Bill cut-off date comes around. If he wants to continue beyond that time, he has to start before the deadline date he does not have to be in training on the cut-off date because of the normal summer vacation, or for other reasons beyond his control, or for circumstances the VA deems to be excusable.

Heretofore there has been no provision concerning the veteran who timely initiates training under PL 550 but who may for some reason be in active pursuit of his program on his deadline date, which is two years after discharge. This has now been changed and provided that "A veteran who has timely initiated his program must be given the opportunity to continue his program on his deadline date except where his attendance is interrupted for normal summer vacations, or for other reasons determined by VA to be beyond his control."

New Veterans Preference Act. The 83rd Congress hurriedly passed the new Veterans Preference Act in the last days of the session. The bill was approved August 14, 1952 and becomes effective in 60 days from that date.

Since the passage of a Veterans Preference Act in 1924, agency chiefs who wanted to evade the obligations of the law made use of a loophole which permitted them to get around the intent of the act, that is to give veterans first priority to government jobs.

Up to now, any government agency passing over a veteran at the top of an eligible list was required by law to state its reasons in writing to the U. S. Civil Service Commission. The CSC could reject the reasons as inadequate, but that was all. The agency could disregard the veterans rights because the CSC did not have any authority to back up its own findings.

Under the new Act, agencies will not merely "consider" the recommendations of the CSC, they will not have to comply with the finding of the CSC when it rules that the reasons for bypassing the veteran are insufficient.

This amendment changes that section which exempts professional and scientific jobs paying $3,000 or more a year. It is expected that this change will open thousands of jobs to veterans.

It also provides that preference eligible veterans who had made passing grades and who have compensable service-connected disabilities of 10 percent or more, will be entitled to "float" to the top of their registers. Disabled veterans not drawing compensation will continue to get their 10 points of preference, but will not automatically rise to the top of their registers.

The 1952 volume of milk production in Florida was 17 percent above the 1951 gallonage, reports the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, in recognition of June as Dairy Month.

IN 1952 FLORIDIANS

EARNED $4,890,000,000 Last year Floridians earned a total income of $4,890,000,000, more by 8 percent than during 1951.

This increase in total income ranked Florida sixth among the States and highlights Florida's growth, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce pointed out recently. The national figure was 5 percent and the south-eastern region gained 6 percent.

Since 1929 the total income of Florida residents has increased 483 percent. The gain from 1940 was 354 percent and from 1950 to 1952 it increased 21 percent. Each of these gains is appreciably above both national and regional figures.

Florida's relatively better position in regard to total income is brought out in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and statistical division. In 1929 Floridians received 84 percent of the total national income. By 1940 this proportion increased to 119 percent and to 150 percent by 1952. A slight drop after the war was followed by improvement in 1950 and by last year had reached 160 percent of national.

ARENA NEWS

Thanks to all of you good people who attended our Bar-B-Que at the Legion Hall recently. Our little shindig turned out to be lots of fun and profitable too. Everyone seemed to enjoy the food, we don't think anyone went away hungry. If so turn your name in and when Bar-B-Que time rolls around again you can have a double helping. No kidding!

The food was prepared by clubmembers and the meat was done to a turn by none other than Roy Whitlock. Following the supper a street dance was held with some good "ole square dance music" by the "Machine Shop Five" setting the pace for the rest of the evening. Rains drove the dancers inside but failed to dampen their spirits. At 12 pm after swinging their partners and "do se do ing," everyone promenadeed their partners home.

The regular meetings are held the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Glades Livestock Market. Visitors are welcome at any time. After the business meetings, interesting programs will be given and refreshments served. Next meeting will be Sept. 16, with rodeo movies to be shown at the business meet. All members are urged to attend as a matter of importance, must be settled by vote.

The saying that "everything grows good in the Glades" has really proven true concerning the Glades Saddle Club. The Club started with 31 charter members and now has over 70 with more members joining every day. At this rate there is no reason why our organization cannot become one of the best known clubs of its type in the state. What our members lack in experience in the rodeo field they are making up with effort. Our rodeo practice must create some interest as there was over a hundred spectators at last Sunday week. Some excitement took place when one of our more experienced riders, Buck Lee, was unable to move quickly enough and was run down by two horses going at break neck speed. Mr. Lee suffered a dislocated shoulder and numerous bruises and scratches, but is O.K. now.

Sunday practice will be resumed at Schlechter's Ranch as soon as it is dry enough to be used, so we will see you at the arena, amigos.

Have you watched the golden sunset Beyond a smoothly mirrored lake. See the big fish, leaping lightly. Watched the ever widening wake? Then you know the joy of living. Glorious music, merged in song: From the birds sweet twilight vespers, Far from the madly rushing throng.

I have spent years in large cities And know the constant tension there, Do you long for Peace and Quiet?

These I have found, and you can share. Do you like this mental picture, Has it appeal, as good and grand? You might arrange to see it. And live in this Flowery Land. — By Charles Culver. (One of our readers thought this poem pictured Belle Glade).

BIG SINGEST SAT. NITE IN BAYFROST PARK MIAMI

The Crusaders, regular performers on a Florida Citrus Network radio program in northern states will be featured in Loy McCormick's gospel concert in Bayfront Auditorium Saturday night (Sept. 5) at 8:30.

This quartet, from Birmingham, Alabama sing on a radio show which covers northern and midwestern states to boost the sales of Florida citrus. Florida Citrus Mutual sponsors the program.

Three other quartets will appear in the all-night sing. One is the West Palm Beach four-piece, the Gospel Harmony, well known in this area. The Rev. Aice featuring Big Jim Waites, veteran of 38 gospel music singing years, and the Melodyaires, the youngest professional quartet in the gospel singing world, round out the program.

Mackey Airlines, now operating between West Palm Beach, Ft. Lauderdale and Nassau, has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to extend its service to Tampa, St. Petersburg and Havana.

Cream Whips Main Street Traffic

Big traffic jam in front of the office last week. Thought everybody in the county was coming in to buy the Clinch, but they weren't.

Seems a 5-gallon can full of Whiskey Flies' truck, pulling cream all over the street. Our cop on duty, Tiny Fields, halted traffic so Whiskey could pick up the can. Tiny was about to wave the ears on when a kitten ran out and started lapping up the cream.

Well, traffic piled up, too. Tiny said no more. Light changed green three times. After the kitten had enough, Tiny waved the traffic through.

From where I sit, this was just a "Tiny" demonstration of the way people in our town are. They're usually pretty considerate and tolerant. If one of our neighbors prefers a good glass of beer to his friend's coffee at dinnertime, it's just such as his own taste and everything's "smooth as cream" between them.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Key

For years motorists have amused themselves by playing games while on tour to pass the time on long trips and help entertain the children. Some folks watch signs along the highway in an attempt to complete the alphabet, starting with the letter "A" they then look for "B, C, D," and so on and the first person in the car to complete the alphabet is the winner.

Others watch license tag numbers and try to make poker hands or try to see how many different state licenses they can record. Some folks make a note of the number of vehicles they pass over a given distance during a period of time.

Now comes A. E. Barit, president of Hudson Motor Car Company, with the suggestion that motorists can indulge in another game that would be more constructive and might help to improve passengers the importance of safety and lead to better motoring and safer travel for everyone.

His company has devised a clever "Safe Driving Check List" copies of which will soon be available at all Hudson dealers. This chart, with blank spaces for pencil notations, lists all of the more common driving offenses that endanger highway travel and lead to accidents.

Over the years there has been a lot of argument over the question of who are the safest drivers, men or women, and what about teen-agers. By using the Hudson chart and playing it like a game, you will get a definite answer to these questions and also impressing on your subconscious mind the things motorists do that imperil their lives and those of other drivers. Among these driving offenses are: exceeding the speed limit, passing on the right, passing on a hill or curve, passing on a shoulder, following too close, failing to stop for school bus, weaving in and out of traffic, riding the center line, crossing center line where prohibited, making turns from wrong lane, parking in prohibited areas, trying to beat the red light, entering or leaving car from wrong side, failing to signal properly and ignoring traffic signs and warnings.

Barit suggests that instead of counting letters or checking licenses to occupy our time while motoring, that we make a game out of noting driving offenses. He particularly advocates this as a game for children as it will not only prove a source of entertainment but will impress on their young minds the importance of observing traffic laws and acquaint them with the principles of safe driving.

Recently Hudson sponsored a non-stop run from New York to San Francisco, sending a couple of personable young women on the cross-country journey, instructed to be careful and observe every traffic regulation and use the check list in noting driving offenses of other motorists enroute.

Proving that speed isn't too important, they made the trip in three days, eight hours and 15 minutes, never driving over 60 miles an hour in daylight or more than 50 miles an hour at night, and at the same time carefully observing every traffic regulation.

Arriving at Los Angeles, the local Safety Council arranged for a competitive drive from the airport to the City Hall. The women drivers again obeyed all speed regulations and traffic rules while their opponent broke as many as he could, running lights, cutting in ahead of other cars and attempting to make time. The reckless driver won,

HELP YOUR SAFETY PATROL
PREVENT DEATH OR INJURY

Safety

Help School Safety Patrol members prevent death or injury in traffic accidents to Florida children.

This plea to motorists was made today by Robert J. Finley, manager of the AAA South Florida Division as the Club released the September kit of AAA safety education material to teachers in elementary and junior high schools, based on the slogan "Help Your Safety Patrol."

"The new materials are the first of a series of ten kits to be issued monthly by the Club to aid teachers in the important task of continuously reminding children of the dangers of street traffic and of the time-proven practices of safe walking," Mr. Finley said.

"Motorists have a real responsibility to help School Safety Patrols do the top-quality job necessary to prevent tragedies involving school children. The presence of a white-belted Safety Patrol member should be a signal to motorists to slow down and be especially alert for child traffic. Safety Patrol members are taught not to stop on or near traffic but to help children across when there are safe intervals in traffic flow. Motorists can greatly help by slowing down and stopping at hazardous corners to permit children to make a safe crossing."

"Safety Patrols have done a remarkable job of safeguarding their classmates, and coupled with school safety education and fine police work, have reduced accidents involving school children by one-third in the past 30 years while accidents to all other age-groups doubled," Mr. Finley added.

DON WEEKS ENROLLS AT HOWARD COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weeks and son, Doug, left recently to make their home in Birmingham, Ala. after spending a month in Belle Glade.

Mr. Weeks, who has been attending the Clarke Memorial College at Newton, Miss., for the past year, was on the Dean's list with a average for the year. He will attend Howard College in Birmingham and plans to finish his education in 2 1/2 years. He preached several sermons at the First Baptist Church during the absence of the minister, and according to reports was praised very highly in his delivery of the sermons.

but the difference in time was only one and one-half minutes. Learn and observe traffic regulations; teach your children to do so and you will avoid heartaches.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK FOR LIVESTOCK BEEN IN FLORIDA REPORT

The outlook for livestock feed supplies and production in Florida and the nation is generally good, according to a recent report of the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee, published in Gainesville, recently.

However, the report states, Florida continues to be a deficit feed-producing state, and farmers should carefully consider their feed needs and plan to supplement their feed grain production with such quick-growing grazing crops as grain sorghum and millet. In this way they can avoid depending on purchased feed and so lessen the effect of the price squeeze for farm products.

In the nation as a whole the combined stocks of corn, oats and barley in all positions on April 1 totaled 61 million tons—nearly 7 million tons larger than a year ago. The committee says it appears probable that the carry-over of feed grains into 1953-54 will total around one-third larger than a year ago, with all of the increase in corn. About 20 million tons of feed grains were carried over last year.

Supplies of corn on hand on April 1 this year were about 1,800,000 bushels, or 300,000 bushels more than at that time in 1952. This was less than the all-time record reached in April 1949, but higher than any other year. Hay prospects are excellent.

The report says farmers fed their livestock about 9 percent less grain and other concentrates during the first half of the 1952-53 feeding season than the year before. Considerably less corn was fed. Consumption of oilseed cake was a little smaller, and stocks on hand on April 1 were the largest in recent years.

Prices of feed grains and mill feeds have declined about 10 percent below last year, and the committee says further declines seem likely. Wholesale prices for several high protein feeds, including cottonseed meal, tankage and meat scraps, also have declined about 18 percent below last year's prices.

In Florida, the home-produced feed supply was adversely affected by the drought in the northern section of the state. Oat production was satisfactory, but lack of storage caused much of it to be shipped out of the state. The committee urges farmers not to neglect maintenance of their permanent pastures, even though few new ones are expected to be established. It will pay to use Florida citrus and cane molasses as supplements to pastures and home grown feeds, the report says.
